elite dangerous cobra mk iii variant pack

i bought this directly from steam and its not showing in the game :V ,. but before that i bought sidewinder set through ED's web store and got directed through steam and that worked fine ,

Edit : I managed to find out how to personally make it work in the game, you have to copy the key into your Elite dangerous account (linked to steam). i bought this directly from steam and its not showing in the game :V ,. but before that i bought sidewinder set through ED's web store and got directed through steam and that worked fine ,

I use this ship so much, figured I might as well fix it up a bit. Helping Frontier a little and getting a little eye candy. I recommend buying these type of mods during Steam sales... it does not have any impact on the game... just nice to look at. (I have way more than the hours posted -- I am in and out of using Oculus Home and Steam non VR version). Purchased during the Steam Summer Sale. The game is an MMO and is fairly inexpensive considering how finished and large the game is, so I dont have any issue purchasing some of these asthetic upgrades. Just know that if you purchase any DLCs on Steam, you will need to snag the DLC key and input it into your Frontier account manually. I saw some previous purchasers were upset because the DLC didnt load into their account, but you just need to take 5 seconds and make this extra step.. For all the people that didnt get the items you need to put the cd key into the code page on the frontier website.. Didnt get the items.. Purchased this DLC on Steam- it does not work. All other stuff I have purchased in game works but this does not. Not cool people.. Only part of the DLC loaded.. Didnt get the items.

For all the people that didnt get the items you need to put the cd key into the code page on the frontier website.. Adds a nice selection of bling to your ship, Considering the game as a whole is pretty much an MMO with no subscription, These types of purchases IMO are quite justified, It's just aesthetic and it helps keep the lights on at Frontier HQ so we can keep playing..
